INTRODUCTION

The gathering of material for this work was started in 1950 by contacting and securing information from various members of the Hudson families and their descendants who now live principally in Arkansas, where older members of the family originally settled, and in Missouri and Texas, where some older members of the family moved after leaving Marion County, Arkansas. Data was also obtained from early census records, early land records, family records, and available genealogical information.

Records could not be located to carry the lineage back to the original Hudson emigrant who came to this country. Since the names and addresses of some later branches of the family are unknown, information regarding these branches could not be obtained for inclusion herein.

In order to make this genealogy as complete as possible, full information is given (where available) regarding each descendant. That is, not only names but dates of birth, marriage dates, etc. are also given. The names of all descendants are listed in capital letters. Names of adopted children and names of relatives by marriage are set out in small type.

It is hoped that the information contained in this genealogy will be of assistance to any member of the family who may desire to trace his family lineage.

To locate your branch of the family turn to the table of CONTENTS for the chapter number of your early ancestor. Then locate this chapter on the page designated where you will find brief writeups of the ancestor and children. Following these will be a chart showing information regarding this child of Jesse Hudson, its children and the names of grandchildren. Following the names of grandchildren (great grandchildren of Jesse Hudson) will be numbers. After locating the number representing your branch turn to such numbered chart in the pages which follow where information regarding other descendants will be shown. Chapter I discloses information regarding Jesse Hudson, his father, and families of his brother and sisters.

At the end of the genealogy blank pages have been inserted for convenience in adding information regarding future generations.

Data pertaining to related families has been inserted so that in case any member of these families should desire to prepare a genealogy for his branch the information furnished herein might provide him with a starting point.

Apologies are offered for any omissions or errors that may be found in this work.

ORIGIN OF THE NAME HUDSON

Early writers differ as to the origin of the name "Hudson". The "UD" or "HUD" prefix may have been derived from: The Old Norse (probably Icelandic)—"UDR" (meaning a son of the night); Danish—"HUDE"; Normandy French—"HUDESENT"; Frisian—"UDSEN" or "UDE"; Dutch—"UDEN" or "UDSEN"; Flemish—"HUDSYN"; or Anglo-Saxon—"HUD", "UDDA" or "UDE". The Anglo-Saxon names may have been and probably were derived from some of the other terms set out above which were of earlier origin.

It is reported by some authorities that the name "Hudson" came originally from the second syllable of "Richard" and that "Hudd" was a North English nickname for Richard, the nickname changing from "Hudd" to "Huddy" and then to "Hudson".

Others believe the name "Hudson" was derived from "Hod" a nickname for "Rogers" and from this to "Hodson" (son of Hod) and hence to "Hudson".

The more probable origin of the name "Hudson" would appear to be that it was derived from the Anglo-Saxon "Hud" which was a very common medieval name and was apparently an abbreviated form of "HUDDA". The suffix "son" was added so as to designate the son of "Hud" hence "Hudson".

COAT-OF-ARMS

The science of Armoury or Heraldry was evolved sometime during the eleventh and twelfth centuries as a system of identification. During the tenth and eleventh centuries in crusades to the Holy Land the crusaders carried shields or banners upon which certain symbols or designs were placed. By these their followers were able to recognize them in war. Such symbols or designs were later placed on the shirt worn over the armour, hence the term "coat-of-arms".

When the crusaders returned to England and the continent of Europe they retained these symbols and designs as marks of identification. Others who had not gone on such crusades adopted symbols and designs of their own to use on their armour. At first these were personal marks of identification but later became hereditary being passed down to the oldest son who succeeded to the estate, but later to all members of the family. Sometimes the younger sons or other branches of the family would change the crest and in this way the crest took on various forms.

When gunpowder came into use in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries the need of armour declined rapidly but the insignia placed thereon was retained as a historic family emblem and was an element of maintaining family prestige.

In modern times the Great Seal of the United States, seals of various states, cities, and insignia of Army, Navy, and Air Force units have been designed on heraldic principles showing that this is still an element in human nature.

The coat-of-arms here shown for the Hudson family is simple in design and the martlets (birds) shown on it have legs and feet thus indicating that it is very old and probably the earliest one used by the family. About the close of the thirteenth century the custom arose by which the martlets were represented without legs or feet when used as charges on armour. So undoubtedly the coat-of-arms shown was designed and used by the family at an earlier date. Martlets are fictitious fabulous birds shaped like a martin or swift, a species of the swallow, and probably have this as their origin. They are known as a "charge", a figure or object borne on the field in a coat-of-arms.

A more elaborate coat-of-arms using principally the same colors as the one illustrated was used by some of the later Hudson families. It consisted of a shield topped by the head plate of a coat of armour, both flanked on either side by curly foliage, similar to that illustrated. The shield was divided into three parts by horizontal bars. On the upper bar was a cross between two boars' heads. On the center bar were two half-lions standing upright facing each other in combat. On the lower bar was a boar's head. Atop the head plate was a lion standing upright holding in its forepaws a boar's head through which there was a broken spear. Beneath the shield was a scroll bearing the Latin motto "Dum Spiro Spero".

FAMILY OF JOHN B. HUDSON FATHER OF JESSE HUDSON

JOHN B. HUDSON

The birthplace of pioneer John B. Hudson, father of Jesse Hudson, who was born sometime between 1770 and 1780, is unknown but probably was in Virginia or South Carolina. His wife, whose given name was Agness, is known to have been born in Virginia about 1775 (Census Records of Marion County, Arkansas-1850). It is believed that Agness' maiden name was Croucher as one of their sons was named Thomas Croucher Hudson, and several families of Crouchers are known to have been living in Amherst and Henry Counties of Virginia in 1770 and 1780. John B. and Agness Hudson were living in South Carolina in 1803 when their oldest son, Jesse, was born as the 1850 Census of Marion County, Arkansas, gives Jesse's birthplace as South Carolina (reported by older members of the family to be near Greenville, South Carolina).

Pioneer John B. Hudson moved sometime between 1803 and 1810 from South Carolina to Kentucky where his son, Thomas Croucher, was born in 1811. Three daughters, Nancy, one whose given name is unknown, and Mary Jane were also born in Kentucky. Upon coming to Kentucky it is believed that the family settled on a farm located on Lick Branch of Drake Creek in what was then Warren County, Kentucky (later Allen County).

The family left Kentucky sometime between 1818 and 1822 moving westward and in 1822 (according to family tradition) settled in Arkansas on what was later known as the Uncle Joe Burleson place on Crooked Creek near the mouth of George's Creek, west of Yellville, Arkansas. It is believed that this family was the first white settlers in this part of Arkansas which was then a part of Independence County from which Izard and later Marion Counties were formed. Marion County was formed from Izard County in 1835 and included the region settled by John B. Hudson.

When Arkansas was admitted to the Union in 1836, John B. Hudson was elected as first Treasurer of Marion County and served in that position until 1842 (1836-1842).

John B. Hudson was followed to Marion County, Arkansas, by his son, Jesse, who came around 1830. When first coming to the county Jesse is reported to have lived with his father.

The 1840 Census (Marion County, Arkansas) shows that John B. Hudson and his wife were living in Marion County, Arkansas, and that their ages were between 60 and 70 years but census records prior to 1850 gave the name of the head of the household only and did not list the names of the wife and children. The 1850 Census (Marion County, Arkansas) shows Agness Hudson to be 75 years of age and to have been living with her daughter, Mary Jane, who married John Wood. As John B. Hudson was not listed in the 1850 Census it is assumed that he was dead at the time. He apparently died sometime between 1842 and 1850 and it is assumed that both he and his wife were buried in the George's Creek Community of Marion County, Arkansas, but the exact location of the graves is unknown. They were probably buried in an old cemetery located on what was later known as the Ike Pangle place on Crooked Creek at the mouth of George's Creek.

JESSE HUDSON

Jesse Hudson, oldest known child of John B. Hudson and Agness Hudson was born in South Carolina (near Greenville, according to family tradition) about 1803. Sometime before 1811 he moved with his father's family to middle Kentucky near the Tennessee and Kentucky state line and it is believed they settled on Lick Branch of Drake Creek in what is now Allen County. When about 19 or 20 years of age he married Matilda Everett, sister of Thomas Ewell Everett, who later married one of Jesse's sisters. Upon marriage, Jesse and Matilda established residence in middle Tennessee (city and county unknown). Four children are known to have been born to them while residing in Tennessee: William Haney, Nancy, Martha Jane, and Jeremiah.

About 1829 or 1830 Jesse Hudson and his family moved to the George's Creek Community, west of Yellville, Arkansas, (Marion County) where his father John B. Hudson had previously settled. It is reported that Jesse's family resided with his father's family when first coming to the county but soon thereafter moved to what was later known as the "B. Hampton" place on George's Creek. There Jesse built a dam and installed the first cotton gin in Marion County. Later he added a saw mill and corn mill to his establishment and these were probably also the first built in the county.

Five children were born to Jesse and Matilda while residing in Marion County, Arkansas: Manerva Jane, another girl whose name is unknown and who is reported to have died at an early age, Jasper, John B. and James Sanders.

After coming to Marion County, Arkansas, Jesse and Matilda spent the remainder of their lives there. It is reported by older members of the family and by people who knew them that Jesse was badly crippled during the later years of his life and that his wife lost an arm sometime before her death. Both Jesse and Matilda died sometime between 1860 and 1870 (believed to have been about 1868). Their burial place is unknown but reported to be in an old cemetery located on what was later known as the Ike Pangle place on Crooked Creek at the mouth of George's Creek.

THOMAS CROUCHER HUDSON

Thomas Croucher Hudson, second known son of John B. Hudson and Agness Hudson was born in Kentucky October 12, 1811, and moved with his father's family to the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County) about 1822. He first married Betty Young but no children were born to this union. Later he married Elizabeth Perriman. Five children are known to have been born to Thomas and Elizabeth while residing in Marion County, Arkansas: John Brown, Peggie, Isaac Wilson, Thomas and Allen W. Sometime in the 1850's the family moved to Barry County, Missouri. Thomas Croucher Hudson was a wagon maker and also made spinning wheels and other household appliances used in pioneer life. Thomas and Elizabeth both died in Barry County, Missouri.

John Brown Hudson, oldest son of Thomas Croucher and Elizabeth Hudson, resided in Barry County, Missouri, all of his life, while it is reported that his sister Peggie who married James Taylor returned to Marion County, Arkansas, to live and probably died there. Isaac Wilson, second son of Thomas Croucher and Elizabeth Hudson taught school in Barry County, Missouri, for a time after his first marriage and then moved to Peel, Arkansas, in the northern part of Marion County where he lived the remainder of his life. It is not known where Thomas and Allen W., the youngest sons of Thomas Croucher and Elizabeth Hudson resided during their later lives.

NANCY HUDSON

Nancy Hudson, oldest known daughter of John B. Hudson and Agness Hudson was born in Kentucky about 1812 and moved with her father's family to the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County) about 1822. When about 19 or 20 years of age Nancy married Isaac Kester. Five children are known to have been born to this union: Ailsey, Polly, Ewell, Isaac W. and Louisa J. Mr. Kester either died sometime between 1842 and 1850 or there was a separation, as the census records of Marion County, Arkansas, show that Nancy was then married to William Goodall. Three children were born to Nancy and William Goodall: Robert, William, and Joseph.

Sometime between 1852 and 1860 Nancy Goodall moved from Marion County, Arkansas, to Bosque County, Texas, and settled in the Valley Mills, Texas, Community where Nancy's sister who married Thomas Ewell Everett then resided. It is not known whether Mr. Goodall died before the family left Marion County, Arkansas, or after reaching Texas or whether there was a separation. In any event he apparently was not living with his family in 1860.

The Kester children did not move to Texas with their mother but continued to reside in the southern part of Marion County, Arkansas, or the northern part of Searcy County, Arkansas. The Goodall children did move to Texas with their mother and stepmother (Mr. Goodall had been previously married and had several children by his first wife) and resided with her after reaching Texas.

It is believed that Nancy spent the remaining years of her life near Valley Mills, Texas (Bosque County) and was buried somewhere in that vicinity.

HUDSON

_____ Hudson (given name unknown) second to the oldest known daughter of John B. Hudson and Agness Hudson was born in Kentucky about 1813 or 1814 and moved with her father's family to the George's Creek community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County) about 1822. When about 16 years of age she married Thomas Ewell Everett whose sister Matilda married her brother Jesse Hudson. Thomas Ewell Everett was the first County Judge of Marion County, Arkansas. He served from 1836-1838 and again from 1840-1842. He was one of the Everett Brothers (the others being I. B., John L. and J. N.) who led the Everett faction in the Tutts and Everetts Feud (sometimes referred to in history as the Marion County War) which occurred about 1845.

Sometime between 1846 and 1850 Thomas Ewell Everett's family moved from Marion County, Arkansas, to Valley Mills, Texas (Bosque County). His wife died before 1850. The family continued to reside in Valley Mills, Texas, until the children were married. It is believed that Thomas Ewell and all of his children spent the remainder of their lives in the Valley Mills, Texas, Community.

Five children are known to have been born to this union: Mary Jane, Pleasant H., James C., Nancy Ann (who it is reported married her cousin John Wood, Jr., and it is also reported that they never had any children), and Jesse. Mary Jane, the oldest daughter, became the housekeeper after the death of Thomas Ewell's wife. All the children were born in Marion County, Arkansas.

MARY JANE HUDSON

Mary Jane Hudson, youngest known child of John B. Hudson and Agness Hudson was born in Kentucky about 1817 and moved with her father's family to the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County) when about 5 years of age. When she was about 14 or 15 years of age she married John Wood and established residence west of Yellville, Arkansas. Ten children are known to have been born to this union: Thomas, William, John B. (who it is reported married his cousin, Nancy Ann Everett, and it is also reported that they never had any children), Elizabeth, James, Lucinda, Arminda, George, Obidiah and Mary.

Insofar as is known, Mary and John Wood spent all of their lives after marriage in Marion County, Arkansas. After the death of Mary's father, John B. Hudson, Agness Hudson, his wife, came to spend the remaining years of her life in the home of Mary and John Wood.

CHAPTER II

FAMILY OF WILLIAM HANEY HUDSON SON OF JESSE HUDSON

WILLIAM HANEY HUDSON

William Haney Hudson, oldest son of Jesse Hudson and Matilda Everett Hudson was born about 1822 in the State of Tennessee (city and county unknown). He moved with his father's family to the George's Creek community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County). In the early 1840's he married Jane Breedlove. No children were born to this union. It is not known whether Jane died or there was a separation. However, about 1843 William Haney married Sarah Northcott, daughter of Joel Baker Northcott, who later married Manerva Jane Hudson, one of William Haney's sisters. It is reported that he served as a Confederate soldier in the Civil War, probably under the command of General Sterling Price, the commanding officer in northwest Arkansas.

After marriage William Haney operated a blacksmith shop in Yellville, Arkansas, and traded in livestock. In the early 1870's he moved with his family to Whitney, Texas (Hill County). He and his wife lived there until their deaths about 1885.

According to the Census Records of Marion County, Arkansas, for 1850 and 1860, three children were born to William and Sarah while they resided in Marion County, Arkansas: William R. born about 1844, is reported to have died in 1862; Martha Jane born about 1847; and Louisa born about 1852. Sterling Price Hudson, another son, was also born in Marion County, Arkansas, February 23, 1871. The two girls probably died in infancy as no member of the family knows anything about them. Two children, Luella Lucille and William Looney, were born while the family resided at Whitney, Texas.

STERLING PRICE HUDSON

Sterling Price Hudson, son of William Haney Hudson and Sarah Northcott Hudson was born February 23, 1871, at Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County). While an infant he moved with his parents to Whitney, Texas (Hill County). After the death of his parents about 1885, he was placed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Cantrell where he lived until adulthood.

He first married Sally Malone and established residence in Brownwood, Texas (Brown County). One child, William Harvey, was born to this union. His second marriage was to Bernice Willis, and they lived at Hillsboro, Texas (Hill County). Two children were born to them: Hiram Taylor and Louise. His third marriage was to May Allison. No children were born by his third wife. His fourth marriage was to Ida Belle Kirkpatrick. The family continued to reside in Hillsboro, Texas, where Sterling Price was a trader in livestock. Two children were born to this union: William Edward and Ella Florence.

Sometime after 1928, Sterling Price moved to Fort Worth, Texas, where he died in 1950.

LUELLA LUCILLE HUDSON

Luella Lucille Hudson, daughter of William Haney Hudson and Sarah Northcott Hudson, was born November 11, 1875, at Whitney, Texas (Hill County). Her parents died about 1885 and she was placed in Buckner's Orphans Home, Dallas, Texas. After leaving the orphanage, she studied music and voice at Austin, Texas. She was teaching school at Comanche, Texas, at the time of her marriage on October 12, 1897, to Eugene Ramsey Day.

In 1907, the family moved to Rotan, Texas, where Mr. Day purchased the first business lot and established the first hardware store in that city.

Luella Lucille became interested in composing music at the age of ten years. During her life she composed such songs as "Texas, Pride of the South" (1909), "Tejas" (1946), and "I'm in Love with You" (1949). She took an active part in civic affairs and belonged to many music and literary clubs and organizations. In 1924 she was proclaimed the outstanding Texas woman in the fields of music and literature, and was featured in Who's Who of the Women of Texas.

She died on November 4, 1951, at Rotan, Texas, where she had spent most of her life. She was buried in the Rotan Cemetery.

WILLIAM LOONEY HUDSON

William Looney Hudson was the youngest child of William Haney Hudson and Sarah Northcott Hudson. It is believed he was born at Whitney, Texas (Hill County) but the exact date of his birth is unknown.

His parents died about 1885. It is not known whether he was placed in Buckner's Orphans Home, Dallas, Texas, where his sister, Luella Lucille, went to live or placed in a private home like his brother, Sterling Price.

In 1898 while yet unmarried, he left Texas for the gold rush in Alaska. The family never heard from him after he left Texas so it is not known whether he left any descendants.

CHAPTER III

FAMILY OF MARTHA JANE HUDSON ASHER

DAUGHTER OF JESSE HUDSON

MARTHA JANE HUDSON

Martha Jane Hudson, second oldest daughter of Jesse Hudson and Matilda Everett Hudson, was born on July 4, 1826, in middle Tennessee (city and county unknown). The oldest daughter whose given name is not known died when about 18 or 20 years of age and before marriage. Martha Jane moved with her father's family to the George's Creek Community, west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County), about 1829 or 1830. On December 20, 1849, she married David Asher. The family resided in Marion County, Arkansas, until about 1853 then moved to Stone County, Missouri, and settled on the west bank of James River* between Cape Fair and Galena, Missouri.

Their oldest children, Leonard, Jesse, and William were born before the family left Marion County, Arkansas. After moving to Missouri, four other children were born: James, J. N., Francis, and Sarah Jane.

Martha Jane died in 1863, and is reported to be buried just across James River from the old home site but the exact location of the grave is unknown. David Asher is believed to have been killed somewhere in Arkansas during the Civil War period and probably was buried in that state but the location of his grave is likewise unknown.

JESSE ASHER

Jesse Asher, second son of Martha Jane Hudson Asher and David Asher was born December 1, 1851, in the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County) and when about three years of age moved with his parents to a farm on James River between Galena and Cape Fair, Missouri (Stone County).

When about twelve years of age his parents died and he is reported to have returned to Marion County, Arkansas, with his brother, Francis, and probably his sister, Sarah Jane, to live among their three uncles: William Haney Hudson, John B. Hudson and James Sanders Hudson.

Later Jesse married Isabelle ————— and resided in the southern part of Marion County, Arkansas. This was his last known residence and members of his brothers' and sister's families do not know where or when he died, or where he was buried.

WILLIAM SANDERS ASHER

William Sanders Asher, third son of Martha Jane Hudson Asher and David Asher was born in the George's Creek Community west of Yellville,

* Description of land upon which Martha Jane and David Asher settled—"S.W. Fractional Quarter Right Bank of River, of Section Ten, One Hundred Fourteen and Fifty Five Hundredth Acres; The Lots Four, Seven and Nine of Section Fifteen, One Hundred Four and Forty-Five Hundredth Acres in Township Twenty Four North, Range Twenty Four West of the Fifth Principal Meridian Stone County, Missouri."

Arkansas (Marion County) on January 11, 1853. While an infant he moved with his parents to Stone County, Missouri, where they settled on a farm on James River between Galena and Cape Fair, Missouri. When about ten years of age both his parents died and he went to live with Elisha Jefferson Melton, commonly known as "Horn" Melton (no relation to the family) where he lived until he reached adulthood. Mr. Melton's home was on Flat Creek in Stone County near where William later built a home and lived.

It is reported that when a young man, William Sanders made several trips to Texas on foot. On January 1, 1877, he married Mary Jane Foster and resided at Hickman Prairie near Shell Knob, Missouri. He engaged in buying and selling livestock, vegetables and poultry products. Sometime later he returned to Dry Hollow and first built a log house but later a rock one about one mile up Dry Hollow from where it empties into Flat Creek. There he continued trading. The family resided there until 1913 when it moved to Aurora, Missouri (Lawrence County). With the exception of one year when it returned to Dry Hollow the family continued to reside in Aurora until about 1939 when it returned again to Dry Hollow Community and lived in a house on Bryan Asher's place for a few years. After leaving this home William Sanders and Mary Jane lived for a period of time with each of their children until deaths.

William Sanders died July 2, 1943, at the home of his son, John Asher on Flat Creek about one mile from where he built the rock house in Dry Hollow. Mary Jane, his wife, died May 11, 1951. Both were buried in the Henson Cemetery just about one mile from where they raised their family in Dry Hollow.

JAMES WASHINGTON ASHER

James Washington Asher, fourth son of Martha Jane Hudson Asher and David Asher was born March 15, 1854, at the family farm home on James River between Galena and Cape Fair, Missouri. Both of his parents died when he was about nine years of age and it is reported that he lived with Mr. Sam Packwood (no relation to the family) most of the time prior to his marriage on March 12, 1874, to Margaret Emily Jones.

The family resided for many years on a farm on Dry Creek near Cape Fair, Missouri, which was later owned by his nephew, Eli Asher. James Washington engaged in farming and stockraising and also operated a blacksmith shop almost all of his life.

Except for three months spent in Oklahoma in 1901 where he was reported to have worked on a railroad, and part of the year 1906 when the family went to Colorado with their daughter, Florida Augustia Allen's family, (traveling part of the way in covered wagons) James Washington spent all of his life in the Cape Fair, Missouri, Community.

Margaret Emily died in the fall of 1922. Later James Washington married Liza Catherine Parvin Thomas. Soon afterwards he sold the farm on Dry Creek and moved to a small place near a town then known as Scholten in Barry County, Missouri. Later he sold this property and purchased a 22 acre farm about three miles south of Scholten, Missouri. He built a four room log house and resided there until his death in 1927. The remains of this old home site may be seen on Highway 44 between Jenkins and Scholten.

James Washington and Margaret Emily are buried in the Nolan Cemetery on Highway 44, four miles west of Galena, Missouri. James' second wife, Liza Catherine Parvin Thomas, died on August 25, 1944.

FRANCIS L. ASHER

Francis L. Asher, fifth son of Martha Jane Hudson Asher and David Asher was born April 5, 1857, at the family farm on James River between Galena and Cape Fair, Missouri. His parents died when he was very small and it is reported that he went to live among his mother's brothers: William Haney Hudson, John B. Hudson, and James Sanders Hudson all of whom were living near Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County).

Francis married Mollie Potter (reported to be part Indian) in Arkansas but came back to Stone County, Missouri, to live and work on a farm owned and operated by John J. Butler (farm located in the Scholten community bordering on Barry County line). Later Francis and his family moved to a farm in Dry Hollow (later known as the Charley Stumpff Place) but afterwards moved back to Marion County, Arkansas.

Sometime after 1901 Francis moved to Texas but later returned to Gentry, Arkansas (Benton County) where he died in 1918. He is believed to have been buried at Gentry, Arkansas.

SARAH JANE ASHER

Sarah Jane Asher, only daughter of Martha Jane Hudson Asher and David Asher was born January 19, 1862, at the family farm on James River, between Galena and Cape Fair, Missouri. Her parents died while she was an infant and it is not known where she lived immediately after their deaths. Her brothers, Jesse and Francis, were reported to have gone to Marion County, Arkansas, and to have lived among their uncles: William Haney Hudson, John B. Hudson and James Sanders Hudson. Sarah Jane may have gone with them as it is reported that she lived for a time with her brother, Jesse Asher, after his marriage. Later she lived with the "Cap" King family (no relation to the family) where she was living at the time of her marriage.

She married Lee Roy Wilson, January 9, 1880, and lived on a farm in Barry County, Missouri, until 1902, when the family moved to Bristow, Oklahoma, and there continued to engage in farming. Sarah Jane died December 18, 1937, and Lee Roy died December 12, 1941. Both were buried in the cemetery at Bristow, Oklahoma.

CHAPTER IV

FAMILY OF JEREMIAH HUDSON, SON OF JESSE HUDSON

Jeremiah Hudson, second son of Jesse Hudson and Matilda Everett Hudson was born about 1828 in Tennessee (city and county unknown) and moved with his father's family to the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County) about 1830. Sometime in the 1850's Jeremiah married Adaline Thomason, daughter of pioneer Henry Thomason, and sister of Eliza Thomason, who married his brother, James Sanders Hudson. Two daughters Rebecca and Matilda are known to have been born to this union.

No information is available regarding Rebecca or her descendants, if any, but it is known that Matilda Hudson married John Hilton and lived on a farm near Cedar Creek, Missouri (Taney County) until sometime in the 1880's or 1890's when the family was reported to have left Missouri for some place in Oklahoma. They were reported to have had two daughters before leaving Missouri but nothing further is known of the family.

Jeremiah was reported to have been killed during the Civil War and it is assumed he was buried either in the George's Creek Community in Marion County or the Omaha Community in Boone County.

CHAPTER V

FAMILY OF NANCY ANN HUDSON HOWARD, DAUGHTER OF JESSE HUDSON

Nancy Ann Hudson, third daughter of Jesse Hudson and Matilda Everett Hudson was born in Tennessee (city and county unknown) about 1829 and moved soon after birth with her father's family to the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County).

When about 18 or 20 years of age, Nancy Ann married Adrian Howard, known by his friends as "Whistling" Howard due to his continuous whistling. Residence was first established in the George's Creek Community where a son, Lewis C. was born. Later the family moved to the Jimmy's Creek Community also in Marion County, Arkansas, where another son, Byron A. was born. About 1870 the family moved to the Valley Mills, Texas, Community in Bosque County. In the 1890's the family is reported to have moved to Oklahoma.

CHAPTER VI

FAMILY OF MANERVA JANE HUDSON (WOOD; NORTHCOTT)

DAUGHTER OF JESSE HUDSON

MANERVA JANE HUDSON

Manerva Jane Hudson, daughter of Jesse Hudson and Matilda Everett Hudson, was born in the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County) December 15, 1832. In the early 1850's she married William Edward Wood. Sometime in the early part of 1855, Mr. Wood left Marion County, Arkansas, with a group of over 100 emigrants, including both men and women, from Arkansas and Missouri, for southern California. Manerva Jane was left behind as she was an expectant mother. When the emigrants reached Mountain Meadows in Washington County, Utah, they were attacked by Indians and, it is alleged, by Mormons disguised as Indians. All the emigrants were killed (Mountain Meadows Massacre) except some children who were reported to have been distributed among the Mormons but later returned to their families by the government. Manerva Jane's child was born July 17, 1855, and was named George Edward Wood.

About 1859, Manerva Jane married Joel Baker Northcott, a widower with six children by a previous marriage. One of his daughters, Sarah Northcott, married William Haney Hudson, oldest son of Jesse Hudson and a brother of Manerva Jane. After the second marriage, Manerva Jane and her child, George Edward Wood, moved with her husband and his family from the George's Creek Community to the Sugar Loaf Community in the northwestern part of Marion County, Arkansas, and engaged in farming and stockraising. Here three children were born. William T., the oldest child, was born in 1860 and died in 1864. Matilda Virginia was born June 12, 1861, and Nancy Catherine was born February 9, 1863.

On September 15, 1874, the family left Marion County, Arkansas, for Texas establishing residence on a farm near White Rock, Texas (near Waco). Later they moved to Comanche, Texas (Comanche County). Still later the family left Comanche, Texas, and moved to a farm near Calf Creek, Texas (McCulloch County), where Manerva Jane died in November 1918. She was buried in the Calf Creek Cemetery. Joel Baker Northcott was buried in the Downing Cemetery, Downing, Texas (Comanche County).

GEORGE EDWARD WOOD

George Edward Wood, only child of Manerva Jane Hudson Wood and William Edward Wood, was born July 17, 1855, in the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County). When about 19 years of age he left Marion County, Arkansas, and moved with his mother and step-father to White Rock, Texas (near Waco).

On August 14, 1877, he married Mary Pamellia Miller of Waco, Texas, and first resided in that community. During his life he lived in various towns in Texas: Waco, Blanket, Comanche, May, De Leon, and Downing, and engaged in farming and stockraising. He died at Downing, Texas, and was buried in the Downing Cemetery.

MATILDA VIRGINIA NORTHCOTT

Matilda Virginia Northcott, daughter of Manerva Jane Hudson Northcott and Joel Baker Northcott, was born June 12, 1861, at Monarch, Arkansas (Marion County). On September 15, 1874, she moved with her parents to White Rock, Texas (near Waco). She married John W. Attaway September 30, 1880, and resided in the vicinity of Waco, Texas (McLennan County). The family also resided at different times in Blanket, Texas, and Comanche, Texas, and engaged in farming and stockraising. Later the family moved to Brady, Texas (McCulloch County) where Mr. Attaway died January 2, 1927, and Matilda Virginia died February 12, 1954. Both were buried in the cemetery at Calf Creek, Texas (McCulloch County).

NANCY CATHERINE NORTHCOTT

Nancy Catherine Northcott, daughter of Manerva Jane Hudson Northcott and Joel Baker Northcott, was born February 9, 1863, at Monarch, Arkansas (Marion County). On September 15, 1874, she moved with her parents to White Rock, Texas (near Waco). She married Berto Nalley September 26, 1880, and resided near Comanche, Texas (Comanche County). Berto Nalley died in 1888 or 1889.

On September 15, 1896, Nancy Catherine married Jim B. Cottrell. A short time after marriage they moved to Brady, Texas (McCulloch County) where they operated a general store one mile north of the city for about 15 years. Mr. Cottrell died in 1942. After his death Nancy Catherine moved to Brownwood, Texas (Brown County) where she lived with her daughter, Bertha Nalley Gressett, until her death March 28, 1957. She was buried in the Calf Creek Cemetery at Calf Creek, Texas (McCulloch County).

CHAPTER VII

JASPER HUDSON

SON OF JESSE HUDSON

Jasper Hudson, third son of Jesse Hudson and Matilda Everett Hudson was born in the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas, about the year 1835. The Census Records of Marion County, Arkansas, for 1850, show his age as 15 years and the 1860 Census Records show his age as 23. The 1860 Census also show that at this time he was working for a widow named Elizabeth Wilson and was included as part of her household.

Since he was not listed in the Census Records of Marion County for 1870 it is believed he died or was killed sometime between 1860 and 1870. He may have been killed in the Civil War. No one seems to know anything about him, so his burial place is unknown.

CHAPTER VIII

FAMILY OF JOHN B. HUDSON SON OF JESSE HUDSON

John B. Hudson, second youngest son of Jesse Hudson and Matilda Everett Hudson, was born November 28, 1840, in the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County), where he lived his entire life. Before marriage he served for two and one-half years or more as a Confederate soldier in the Civil War, probably under the Command of General Sterling Price, the commanding officer in northwest Arkansas. It is reported that he at one time served in the same company with his brother, James Sanders Hudson.

He married Malisa Catherine Parker and homesteaded land up George's Creek from his father's place where he lived and engaged in farming and stockraising until his death November 6, 1916. His wife died July 30, 1926. Both were buried in the George's Creek Cemetery.

SARAH JANE HUDSON

Sarah Jane Hudson, oldest child of John B. Hudson and Malisa Catherine Parker Hudson was born January 13, 1865, in the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County). She married Samuel W. Sharp who later homesteaded land in the George's Creek Community near her father's place. Here they established residence and engaged in farming and stockraising. Sarah Jane died August 6, 1896, and was buried in the George's Creek Cemetery.

ISAAC WILSON HUDSON

Isaac Wilson Hudson, oldest son of John B. Hudson and Malisa Catherine Parker Hudson, to live to adulthood, was born January 2, 1875, in the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County). On December 30, 1894, he married Bertie Hawkins (sister of George Hawkins who married his sister, Mary Hudson) and soon thereafter moved to the Sam Sharp homestead which was at the time owned by his father and located near his residence. Later he purchased the place from his father and lived most of his life on this farm where the family engaged in farming. During the later years of his life he resided in the Union Community south of Bellefonte, Arkansas (Boone County) where he died June 13, 1957. He was buried in the George's Creek Cemetery.

MARY HUDSON

Mary Hudson, youngest daughter of John B. Hudson and Malisa Catherine Parker Hudson was born in the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County). On May 14, 1895, she married George Hawkins (brother of Bertie Hawkins who married her brother, Isaac Wilson) and established residence on a White River farm near Oakland, Arkansas (Marion County). The family engaged in farming and stockraising. Later George Hawkins was drowned in White River. A short time after George's death Mary and children moved to Flippin, Arkansas (Marion County) where she lived until death.

JAMES GILBERT HUDSON

James Gilbert Hudson, youngest son of John B. Hudson and Malisa Catherine Parker Hudson was born November 28, 1881, in the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County). After marriage February 3, 1901, to Terrisa Elizabeth Tabor he purchased what was then known as the John Appleton place in the George's Creek Community. Here the family resided for some time and engaged in farming and stockraising. Later he sold the John Appleton property and bought a farm in the same community then known as the Jeff Davis place. Here the family resided and continued farming and stockraising until his death, October 16, 1947. He was buried in the George's Creek Cemetery.

CHAPTER IX

FAMILY OF JAMES SANDERS HUDSON SON OF JESSE HUDSON

JAMES SANDERS HUDSON

James Sanders Hudson, youngest child of Jesse Hudson and Matilda Everett Hudson, was born December 15, 1842, on what was later known as the "B Hampton" place on George's Creek, west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County). Before marriage he served as a Confederate soldier in the Civil War, probably under the command of General Sterling Price, the commanding officer in northwest Arkansas. It is reported that he at one time served in the same company with his brother John B. Hudson. In 1917 or 1919 he was granted a pension by a Special Act of the Arkansas Legislature for service in the Confederate Army. About 1865, he married Eliza Elizabeth Thomason, daughter of pioneer Henry Thomason, and sister of Adaline Thomason, who married his brother, Jeremiah Hudson.

On April 24, 1886, James Sanders Hudson was appointed postmaster at George's Creek, Arkansas. He operated a store in connection with the post office and freighted merchandise by wagon from Springfield, Missouri, the nearest railroad station. About 1900, he sold the store and moved to his nearby homestead on George's Creek, where the family resided until Eliza Elizabeth died March 2, 1923. Shortly afterwards, he purchased the hotel at Pyatt, Arkansas (Marion County) and he and his daughter, Manerva Belle, operated the hotel until his death September 8, 1928. He was buried beside his wife in the George's Creek Cemetery.

LAURA ANN HUDSON

Laura Ann Hudson, oldest child of James Sanders Hudson and Eliza Elizabeth Thomason Hudson, was born September 13, 1867, in the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County). On August 8, 1889, she married James Wesley Rowden and moved to his homestead in the George's Creek Community. Later, the family moved to a farm in the Fallen Ash Community near Flippin, Arkansas (Marion County) where Mr. Rowden died in 1917. He was buried in the Fallen Ash Cemetery near his home.

About 1897, the family moved to Texas where they stayed for about one year and then returned to Marion County, Arkansas. Except for this short time Laura Ann spent most of her life in Marion County.

Several years after Mr. Rowden's death, Laura Ann married John Wesley Reed who died in 1941. A few years later Laura Ann made her home with her daughter, Edna, and her husband, Walter Moore, who owned and lived on an adjoining farm. She continued to reside with this daughter until 1957 when she went to California to live with her other daughter, Nannie Briggs, where she now (1957) resides.

WILLIAM HANEY HUDSON

William Haney Hudson, oldest son of James Sanders Hudson and Eliza Elizabeth Thomason Hudson, was born March 27, 1870, in the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County). He attended school at Yellville and Valley Springs, Arkansas. On July 25, 1895, he married Elizabeth Adams who died in 1897 at the home of some of her relatives in Fairland, Oklahoma, while the family was on its way to Texas in a covered wagon. Elizabeth was buried at Fairland, Oklahoma.

After the death of his wife, William Haney Hudson returned to Arkansas and engaged in farming in the George's Creek Community where he homesteaded. Later, he moved to Dodd City, Arkansas, in the western part of Marion County, which was at that time a prosperous mining and lumbering town. Here he operated a store.

On November 9, 1902, he married Mary Belle Dowel. Later, he and his wife engaged in the telephone business. About 1911 the family moved three miles northeast of Dodd City and engaged in lumbering and farming. William Haney Hudson represented Marion County in the Arkansas Legislature in 1909 and 1913.

In 1919, the family decided to move to Texas. Enroute, however, it stopped at Rogers, Arkansas, where William Haney purchased a second hand store. The family lived at Rogers, Arkansas, only a few months and then moved to Aurora, Missouri. Here William Haney operated a grocery store.

In 1921, the family moved to a farm on Sugar Loaf Creek north of Dodd City, Arkansas (Marion County), and again engaged in lumbering and farming. Except for a few years spent at Pyatt, Arkansas, and Aurora, Missouri, where the family was engaged in the mercantile business, it resided on the farm until 1946. Then it moved back to Aurora, Missouri. Mary Belle Hudson died January 27, 1953, and was buried in Maple Park Cemetery in Aurora. William Haney Hudson continues to reside (1957) at Aurora, Missouri.

JAMES HENRY HUDSON

James Henry Hudson, third child of James Sanders Hudson and Eliza Elizabeth Thomason Hudson was born June 8, 1872, in the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County). On July 25, 1895, he married Josephine Burns. The family first lived on James Henry's homestead in the George's Creek Community. Later the family moved to a farm near Bruno, Arkansas (Marion County) where it engaged in farming and stockraising. James Henry also engaged part time in the ministry.

After his father's death, James Henry moved his family back to the George's Creek Community to live on his father's home place. Here he died March 27, 1948, and was buried in the George's Creek Cemetery.

MATILDA TRIMBLE HUDSON

Matilda Trimble Hudson, fourth child of James Sanders Hudson and Eliza Elizabeth Thomason Hudson was born October 1, 1874, in the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County). On August 16, 1891, she married Leandrew Dotson Bogle. They resided in the Snow community near Pyatt, Arkansas (Marion County) and engaged in farming and stockraising.

About 1925, the family left Arkansas and moved to Walla Walla, Washington (Walla Walla County) where some of the children had already gone to live. Here Mr. Bogle died in 1948. He was buried in the Walla Walla Cemetery. Matilda Trimble and several of her children continue to reside (1957) in Walla Walla, Washington.

MANERVA BELLE HUDSON

Manerva Belle Hudson, fifth child of James Sanders Hudson and Eliza Elizabeth Thomason Hudson, was born January 11, 1876, in the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County). On January 11, 1895, she married Ephram Hosier Tilton and established residence on his homestead north of Pyatt, Arkansas (Marion County). Manerva Belle divorced Mr. Tilton in 1923. After her mother's death, she lived with her father on his homestead farm. In 1924, her father purchased the hotel at Pyatt, Arkansas, and she moved there with him to help operate the hotel.

About 1925, Manerva Belle married Ben Tryon. This marriage ended in divorce after a few months. On March 10, 1927, she married William P. Ransom. Her father died in 1928 and she continued to operate the hotel. After divorcing William P. Ransom, she married Fred Lumberg in 1943.

In 1947, Manerva Belle sold the hotel at Pyatt, Arkansas, and moved to Puxico, Missouri (Stoddard County) where her daughter Eliza Elizabeth Tilton Looney resided. She later purchased a home near that of her daughter and now (1957) resides there.

NANCY JANNET HUDSON

Nancy Jannet Hudson, youngest child of James Sanders Hudson and Eliza Elizabeth Thomason Hudson, was born July 3, 1885, in the George's Creek Community west of Yellville, Arkansas (Marion County). On February 11, 1900, she married William Walter Clark and settled on a farm near that of her father, where she lived until about 1920. After leaving the farm, the family moved to Pyatt, Arkansas (Marion County) where it now (1957) resides.
